Departments.

ENGLISH SCHOOL.

In this school the ordinary branches of a common education are taught, especially those which are required for admission to the Teachers' Department.

TEACHERS' DEPARTMENT.

A Department for the instruction of professional teachers has existed in the institution from the first.

The Board have made an arrangement for a separate organization of this department, with distinct officers, and facilities for instruction, to go into effect at the opening of the next collegiate year. For details see Appendix.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

Instruction in this department is confined to those studies which are required for admission to College. The classes will be formed at the commencement of each term.

COLLEGE.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman class, must have completed their fourteenth year, and must be well versed in the Grammar of the English, Latin, and Greek languages; Cæsar, Cicero's Orations against Catiline; Virgil; Goodrich's Greek Lessons, Jacob's Greek Reader, or an equivalent; Ancient and Modern Geography, and Arithmetic.

For an advanced standing, the candidate must be prepared for examination in the studies which have been attended to by the class into which he proposes to enter.

Exercises weekly in Elocution and Composition, through the course, and during the last two years, in extemporaneous and written discussions. Also critical examinations of English Classics. Lectures will be given on English and Classical Literature, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Mineralogy and Geology.—Recitations every Monday morning, by all the Students in the Greek Testament.

The Text Books in the classical department, in addition to those mentioned in the course, are Andrews and Stoddard's Latin Grammar, Goodrich's and Buttman's Greek Grammar, and the best German Editions of entire works, a supply of which has recently been procured.

A Library of Text Books has been commenced by the liberality of members of Amherst and Yale Colleges; from which the more common Text Books are furnished at a trifling percentage.

The College Library contains about 3000 volumes, embracing an extensive and choice selection of Philological works, procured by the Professor of Languages on his recent visit to Europe. For this portion of the Library a convenient room has been fitted up, which is open to the Students a portion of each day, for reference and study. A Philosophical Apparatus carefully selected at London and Paris has been received during the present year. The Board have also procured from the East, a Mineralogical Cabinet, believed to have been one of the best private collections in the country. This cabinet will soon be suitably arranged for the purposes of instruction in this Department of Science.

MATRICULATION.

Every student, in order to admission, is required to present satisfactory testimonials of a good moral character, and within four weeks from his entrance, to matriculate by signing a written pledge to obey the laws of the College, to abstain from the use of ardent spirits, and from every species of immorality. Before matriculation, his bills must be settled with the Steward.

COMMENCEMENT, VACATIONS, &c.

The College Commencement is on the last Wednesday of July.

In College, the year is divided into two terms, the first of twenty-six weeks, the second of fourteen weeks, and two vacations, the first, from the commencement, nine weeks, the second from the end of the first term three weeks.

In all the other departments the year is divided into three terms of fourteen weeks each, and three vacations. The first term opens on the sixth Wednesday after the commencement and is followed by a vacation of one week; the second term is succeeded by a vacation of three weeks, and the third, which closes on Commencement-day, by a vacation of six weeks.

At the close of the year there will be a thorough examination of each department, occupying two weeks or more as may be requisite, which will be attended by a body of Examiners appointed by the Board, and be so conducted, as to make it an actual test of the amount and accuracy of the knowledge acquired by the student.

In all the departments, it is of great importance, that students should enter at the beginning of the term, and none will be received for a shorter period than one term.

EXPENSES.

The price of tuition in the English School, is from $12 to $20, a year, according to the studies pursued; in the Preparatory Department, $21, and in the Teachers' Department and the College, $25.

Room-rent, where two occupy a room, is from $5, to $7, each, including the use of stove, bedstead, and bed-clothes.

To members of College and to such other students as avail themselves of it, the charge for the use of the Library will be $1, per year.

A charge for incidental expenses will also be made, which will vary according to circumstances, from $1 to $3 a year.

Board in private boarding-houses may be had from $1,25 to $1,75 per week. But in associations formed among themselves, many Students board for less than $1 per week.

Wood, washing, lights, &c. vary according to circumstances, and the habits of the Students.

Bills for tuition, room-rent, library, &c. are payable in advance, at the commencement of each term.

To guard against unnecessary expense, parents and guardians often deposite funds with some member of the Faculty, or some person approved by them, who will give particular attention to the pecuniary affairs of the Student, and render an account of expenditures. This course is earnestly recommended to all who intend placing their sons, or wards, at this Institution—and also, that they neither authorize the obtaining of credit, nor pay debts which are unauthorized by them.

FUND FOR THE INDIGENT.

The Board have commenced raising a fund for the aid of pious and indigent young men, preparing for the ministry. Such progress has been made that they are able to remit half the tuition of twenty-five or thirty students each year.

MANUAL LABOR.

The plan of connecting regular Manual Labor with study, was adopted at the commencement of the institution; and every successive year of trial, continues to strengthen the belief of the Board in its importance and practicability. The primary advantages of the system are, to secure to the Student a sound and vigorous physical constitution, without in the least interfering with his studies; to occupy the hours of relaxation from study, in laying the foundation for habits of industry, and sobriety; and to furnish a knowledge of some useful mechanical employment.

Whatever of pecuniary advantage the student may derive, forms an additional recommendation of the system. Whether this advantage shall be considerable, or only trifling, must depend solely upon the student himself. The Steward is instructed to reduce the matter to practical business principles, to pay each student who works under his direction, what he earns.—This amount, of course, varies according to the student's own skill and industry. A good farmer or mechanic may earn his board and even more; a few individuals are able to defray nearly all their necessary expenses. But the greater proportion, who, for whatever cause, require the constant attention of the Steward or the overseers of the shops, must be expected to fall far short of defraying their whole expenses.

Increased facilities for the success of Manual Labor operations by the aid of machinery, have been recently prepared and are available to the students.

Among the various occupations in which students are employed, are those of the farmer, the cabinet-maker, the joiner and carpenter, the bricklayer and plasterer, the cooper, &c., and the preference of the student is consulted, so far as is consistent with the proper management of all the departments of the establishment.

PUBLIC WORSHIP.

Every Student, is required regularly to attend some one place of public worship twice on the Sabbath, being at liberty to connect himself with any one of the regular religious congregations of the place, at his own option, or according to the wishes of his parent or guardian.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The Faculty, wish it to be distinctly understood, that they regard the benefits of the institution as the special property of the studious, the gentlemanly, and the virtuous; they must not therefore be expected to waste its privileges on the indolent, the dissipated, or the vicious, and it is hoped that none such will seek admission into it.

It is the wish of the Trustees, to establish Marietta College on a foundation of solid and permanent usefulness. They desire to see it rank among the best institutions of the country, and they intend to supply it, as a kind Providence may enable them, with all the facilities for furnishing a sound and elevated christian education.

At the present moment, taking into view the healthfulness and beauty of the location, the intelligence and high moral and religious character of the community surrounding it, the strict, though mild and paternal system of its discipline, it is believed no College in the West presents to parents and guardians stronger claims on their confidence and support.

Appendix.

TEACHERS' SEMINARY.

The TEACHERS' DEPARTMENT is at present connected with the College, but the Trustees have determined to unite it with the ENGLISH SCHOOL, thus forming the TEACHERS' SEMINARY.

This Institution is designed not only for those who wish to become Teachers, but for all young men who desire to obtain a thorough business education.

The proposed arrangement will go into effect at the beginning of the next Collegiate year, under Professor JEWETT, as Principal, and Mr. L. TENNEY, Associate Principal, assisted by able instructors. The course of study in the Seminary will be embraced under two general divisions:

First. PRIMARY DEPARTMENT, consisting of pupils in the elements of Reading, Orthography, Penmanship, and in Colburn's First Lessons.

Second. REGULAR COURSE OF THREE YEARS.

Year First, JUNIOR CLASS.—Reading, Orthography, Penmanship, continued; Colburn's First Lessons, completed; English Grammar, Smith's Geography, First Book of History. Colburn's Sequel and Adams' Arithmetic, commenced.

Year Second, MIDDLE CLASS.—Colburn's Sequel and Adams' Arithmetic, finished; English Grammar, continued. Rhetorical Reading, Woodbridge's Universal Geography, Webster's History of the United States, Book-Keeping, Political Class Book, Newman's Rhetoric, Flint's Surveying. Themes for Historical and Descriptive Composition; Letters of business and of ceremony; Notes, Orders, Exchanges, &c.

Lectures on the Constitution of the State of Ohio and of the United States.

Year Third, SENIOR CLASS, Sullivan's General History, Abercrombie's Intellectual Philosophy, Abercrombie's Moral Philosophy, Scientific Class Book, (giving a compendious view of Natural Philosophy and Chemistry.) Alexander's Evidences of Christianity. Burret's Geography of the Heavens.

Lectures on the best Modes of Teaching; on School Government; on the Nature and Importance of the office of the Teacher; on the Laws of Ohio respecting Common Schools, &c. &c.

Didactic Compositions, Forensic Discussions and Extemporaneous Debates through the year.

During the Winter Term of the Senior Year, extra studies embracing Algebra and the Elements of Geometry, will be pursued, so that those who wish, may spend the Winter in teaching school, without interrupting the regular course of study.

There will be three terms of fourteen weeks each, in each year. The first term will commence on the sixth Wednesday from the last Wednesday of July. After a vacation of one week, the second term will commence, and be followed by a vacation of three weeks, when the third term will commence; and, closing with the Summer term of College, will be succeeded by a vacation of six weeks.

The charges for tuition in the Seminary will be as follows:

Primary Depart.,	$4,	per term or	$12,	per year.
Junior Class,	$5,	"	$15,	"
Middle Class,	$6,	"	$18,	"
Senior Class,	$7,	"	$21,	"

Students may enter an advanced Class in the Seminary, at any time when they can pass a successful examination in the previous studies of the course. They can also enter the Primary Department, or either class in the Regular Course, at any time they choose, though it is very desirable they should present themselves for admission at the beginning of the year. Any student may enter for one term, but none for a shorter period. Tuition fees must be paid IN ADVANCE, for each term.

Should any young gentleman desire to pursue some of the above studies without connecting himself with either of the regular classes, efforts will be made to accommodate him.

PROF. JEWETT, aided by the Associate Principal, and such other assistance as may be requisite, will take charge of the Senior Class, while the instruction of the other Classes will mostly devolve on the MESSRS. TENNEYS, under whose direction the English School has deservedly attained a high reputation.

Members of this Seminary will not be required by law, to perform Manual Labor, though facilities for labor will generally present themselves to any who may prefer to engage in it.
